▶ The Kapyong Barracks has been an empty shell for more than seven years as groups wrangle over who gets the land.

Ruling struck down

Fate of Kapyong Barracks in limbo since 2004 ◐ Ruling on former military base could add years to legal fight ◐ Decision essentially sends First Nations group back to the drawing board

JAMES TURNER
@METRONEWS.CA

A key court ruling fuelling the fight by several Manitoba First Nations to claim a former military base in Winnipeg has been struck down — but the group's not seeing the setback as a defeat.

The fate of the valuable parcel of federally owned land at the former Kapyong Barracks has been in legal limbo for years. Seven Manitoba First Nations are battling for it to satisfy outstanding land-claims issues with the Canadian government.

The group claimed a major victory nearly two years ago when Justice Douglas Campbell declared Canada should have consulted with them prior to making decisions about future redevelopment of the 160-acre property.

However, a higher court has nixed that ruling after the government appealed.

"It's an excellent opportunity for Canada to come to the table and negotiate."
LAWYER NORMAN BOUDREAU

Justice Marc Nadon called Campbell's decision "inadequate" and sent the whole matter back for a new hearing.

"In my view, the judge failed to seize the substance of the critical issues before him. He also failed to deal adequately with the evidence before him," Nadon wrote in his decision.

No date for a re-hearing has been set.

Speaking for the First Nations, lawyer Norman Boudreau said their fight continues. A number of recent Supreme Court decisions regarding aboriginal rights may help their case, he said.

"We're very confident we'll have our client's rights recognized by the court," he said.

Homicide victim identified

WINNIPEG POLICE SERVICE

▶ Solomon Joseph Andrew Turner

A Winnipeg man who recently survived a savage beating at a downtown park has become the city's 11th homicide victim this year after being stabbed to death.

Winnipeg police identified Solomon Turner, 46, as the person they found dead in a suite at an Austin Street North rooming house on the evening of May 10.

Police said Turner was arguing with another man when the fight got physical.

A 48-year-old suspect produced an unknown weapon and allegedly stabbed Turner several times in the lower body. Investigators said the wounds caused Turner's death.

Another person in the home fled and called 911, police said.

Turner was found badly beaten last summer in a park near the Provencher Bridge.

A few weeks later, he went missing, prompting police to issue a public call for help finding him because he needed medical attention.

Lloyd Alfred Lindsay is currently at the Winnipeg Remand Centre, charged with second-degree murder in connection to the killing. JAMES TURNER

Riverview raid nets explosives

A number of homes in the area were evacuated after police found tube of commercial-grade explosives ◐ Two men facing multiple charges

@METRONEWS.CA

Loaded guns, street drugs and a stick of explosive were seized during a raid on a quiet street in the city's Riverview neighbourhood, according to Winnipeg police.

Investigators searched a small bungalow on Arnold Avenue Wednesday evening.

After finding a yellow tube containing commercial-grade explosive stashed away inside, police took no chances and evacuated a number of homes. The bomb squad was summoned to defuse the situation.

People living nearby seemed surprised at what was found during the operation, saying the home was never a hub of any activity or noise.

Sizable seizure

- .38 calibre revolver
- .22 calibre rifle
- 2.5 pounds of weed
- $16,500 of ecstasy and Percocet pills
- Scales, presses and drug paraphernalia

Others told of what was found inside thanked police.

"I'm glad police are on top of it. I don't want to have neighbours like that," said one man who didn't want to give his name.

Two men, 54 and 25, are facing numerous drug and weapons charges.

Couple who lost home to tornado brace for flood

Military presence, volunteers in town bring back memories of tornado's aftermath: Lynn Kauppila

@METRONEWS.CA

Lynn and Les Kauppila already lost their home once to a natural disaster, and they're not about to relive the experience.

The couple miraculously survived having the roof literally being ripped from over their heads after an F5 tornado touched down in Elie in June 2007.

But they're cautiously optimistic about the newest threat their property faces — a flood of water from an intentionally breached dike a short distance away along the Assiniboine River.

The entire town of Elie is furiously prepping for the possibility the province will move on the dike-cutting plan in its efforts to get a handle on a torrent of water rolling downstream.

The deluge could cause widespread flooding and damage.

Les said if the damage to their home is bad enough, he'd consider cleaning it up, putting the cheery bungalow on the market and moving.

Still, both remain confident it won't get to that point.

"We've damn well lived through an F5 tornado, and we'll damn well live through this," Lynn added.

"At least this one, it's not going to take your life, it won't take your house," said Les.

Teen's sandbag machine wins kudos

JAMES TURNER/METRO

Ryan Conbut may just be the most popular person in the town of Elie these days.

The 17-year-old's invention of a motor-powered portable sandbag-making machine has kept him hopping from yard to yard to yard as people call for help to protect their homes.

Conbut's hand-built machine works probably as you'd expect: a conveyor belt carries sand shovelled or dropped onto it by humans or a front-end loader, and funnels it down into a chute.

Sandbags are placed at the spouts of the chute, are filled and passed on to the eager arms of a person willing to lug it to a nearby dike.

The machine can produce up to 20 sandbags a minute.

"I think we dialed it up to a bag every six seconds," he said. "We've made a couple of thousand over the day," he said.

Sandbaggers helping dike a large Elie property called the teen "brilliant" and "amazing."

Canadians face cannon fire, fend off Libyan forces

Canadian warship forces Gadhafi soldiers to abandon attack at sea Responded with machine-gun fire

A Canadian warship has helped fend off an attack by Libyan forces on the port city of Misrata despite coming under fire itself.

A statement from NATO says the frigate HMCS Charlottetown was conducting patrols with other allied vessels when a number of fast small boats launched an attack.

The statement says the Charlottetown acted with a British Destroyer and was supported by a French warship as it forced the boats to abandon their attack.

The frigate came under fire during the incident in what NATO describes as artillery and anti-aircraft canon fire from regime forces ashore.

The Charlottetown responded with a short burst of machine-gun fire of its own.

None of the allied warships suffered any damage or injury in the incident that occurred around 2 a.m. local time Thursday. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Dike break flooding delayed once again

The Manitoba government has once again pushed back its plan to purposefully flood rural properties across a wide swath of the province southeast of Portage La Prairie.

Barring any sudden emergencies, crews will wait to break a dike along the swollen Assiniboine River until Saturday morning, Water Stewardship Minister Steve Ashton said.

Ashton also tried to soothe the worries of homeowners in the area, saying the intentional flooding will be controlled and very gradual.

JONATHAN HAYWARD/THE CANADIAN PRESS

▶ Residents rush to remove personal belongings from their homes near Hoop and Holler Bend in Manitoba on Thursday as troops assemble a dike.

"It will be moving fairly slowly. There are areas ... that will not see any water for days," Ashton told reporters Thursday.

The intentional flood was pushed back for two reasons, Ashton said — to give residents more time to prepare and because crews have built up dikes and the Portage diversion channel enough in recent days to handle 36 per cent more water.

The province has been raising the spectre of the intentional flood since Sunday. The move is considered the lesser of two evils, as doing nothing could cause the Assiniboine to spill its banks in other areas as well, swamping twice as much land and affecting hundreds more homes and properties.

Excavators were already starting to dig out the dike Thursday as nearby residents scrambled to pile sandbags around their homes. THE CANADIAN PRESS

‘Explain yourself’: Clement to gas execs

‘People deserve the answers’ to why it costs so much to fill up, Tony Clement says But will mere explanations satisfy hard-pressed consumers?

+ 76¢ US ($98.97 US)	$4.256 US (+ 1.5¢ US)	$1,506.80 US (+ $5.40 US)

Industry Minister Tony Clement is rolling out the welcome mat for gasoline refiners, distributors and retailers to explain why Canadians are getting such a hosing at the pumps.

As gasoline prices dipped on Thursday, reversing spikes earlier in the week, Clement said he planned to invite fuel producers to appear before a parliamentary committee to explain their pricing methods.

“No one can understand why last year, when oil per barrel was around $140 or $150, we were paying $1.37 per litre, when this year oil is south of $98 a barrel and yet we’re paying more,” he said.

However, Clement did not commit to a date for the meetings. And it’s uncertain how far Ottawa will go to deal with high gas prices.

Former Liberal MP and gas-price watcher Dan McTeague said a parliamentary committee is probably a waste of time. He said the government would be better off giving tax rebates as federal revenues rise on the back of gas-price hikes.

THE CANADIAN PRESS

HIGHWAY ROBBERY

Here, just take my wallet

The reasons for the rising price of gasoline range from higher crude oil prices on the back of a falling U.S. dollar and Mideast political instability to speculation in wholesale markets. As well, there are fears that U.S. refinery closings due to springtime flooding on the Mississippi River could cut gas supplies.

THE CANADIAN PRESS

FRANK GUNN/THE CANADIAN PRESS

▶ Walking the talk, or just talking? Tony Clement says he plans to summon fuel producers to Ottawa to tell him why the price of gas is so high. But, asked whether Ottawa might impose an excess-profits tax on the oil industry, as Britain’s Conservative government did this year, he said higher taxes are not the answer.

WINNIPEG. As an avid runner in Winnipeg, I'm glad that cyclists are getting a shake from the Winnipeg city police. I don't know how many times I have almost been struck by a cyclist I have met on bridges or on the sidewalk. There are signs on all bridges that request cyclists to dismount and walk their bike across. If vehicles must abide to the law, so should cyclists. WRANE WHITE

WINNIPEG. Once again the cyclist whinery is open for business. Why is it when people break the law and get fined for it they always say it's a cash grab? The sign at each end of the Osborne Bridge clearly states AND illustrates that cyclists are to dismount and WALK across the bridge (along with no skateboarding). It's about respecting the safety of pedestrians and yourself if you choose to cross the bridge using the sidewalk. A huge thank you to the cyclists who are dismounting. Prosecutors say former tellers Estefany Danelia Martinez, 18, and Anna Margarita Rivera, 19, Martinez's boyfriend, Ricky Gonzalez, 19, and Rivera's brother, Arturo Solano, 22, were indicted Wednesday on charges of bank robbery and embezzlement.

Bridesmaids take the cake

Richard Crouse and Mark Breslin debate the merits of Bridesmaids
Wiig pushes herself to a new level in one the best female comedies ever

Richard Crouse: Mark, the big mistake people will make about Bridesmaids is thinking that it is a chick flick or a female version of The Hangover. In fact, I think it takes the best elements of those two and cleverly mixes them into one very funny but still very heartfelt movie that should have been called Bridesmaid on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown. Do you agree with me that this is the funniest female comedy that Tina Fey didn't write?

Mark Breslin: I've been raving for years that Kristin Wiig is the Carol Burnett of our times: the greatest female sketch comic working today. Now, with this movie, she surpasses even that. I was worried that the movie would just substitute girl gross-outs for boy gross-outs, but there's a depth here that the trailer doesn't hint at. The humour is based on some pretty dark topics: fear of failure, loneliness, body image issues, so bravo to Wiig and her cast for going there. But most importantly, Wiig has wrested the wedding comedy from the hands of Kate Hudson.

RC: Hallelujah! Wiig is the best thing to happen to SNL in years but her big screen output has been somewhat underwhelming. Her movies like MacGruber always felt to me like she was acting in a long form sketch. She's always funny, but I never felt like there was a real depth of character there until now. Her work as the neurotic but mostly well meaning Annie is a breakthrough, proving that being funny and having feelings are not mutually exclusive.

MB: Well put, Richard. But before we turn off any potential moviegoer thinking they're about to watch a Sundance comedy, let's remember that there are two hysterical, verrrrry broad set pieces in the middle of the movie that will satisfy anyone — male or female looking for belly laughs. The only thing in the movie that didn't work for me were the British roommates, which felt forced, unlike her romance with the patrolman, which felt real and blithe. He's a standout in a large cast. Anybody in it catch your eye?

RC: Absolutely. Chris O'Dowd as the lovelorn cop brings a huge amount of charm to the movie and Rose Byrne, who I'm used to seeing in dramas, is very funny.

MB: Let's not forget Melissa McCarthy who gets huge laughs, even if some of them are on the cheap side. And Jill Clayburgh in her last role. R.I.P.

Depp can't shake being Capt. Jack

Pirates of the Caribbean star was excited to get another chance to work with actress Penelope Cruz

NED EHRBAR

METRO WORLD NEWS IN HOLLYWOOD

Much earlier in his career, Johnny Depp claimed none of his films would ever make any money. But with Pirates of the Caribbean: On Stranger Tides, the fourth installment in the hugely successful franchise set to be released, he was clearly mistaken.

"It's not my fault. I did my best, even to the point of trying to get fired on the first one, and they just couldn't bring themselves to do it," Depp says of his good fortune. "It's kind of interesting to experience that kind of ride after essentially 20 years of enjoying a career based on failures. And then suddenly something clicks. The fact that people decided to go see a movie that I was in was probably the most shocking thing that I've ever been through."

Also shocking to Depp is how much Capt. Jack Sparrow, the beloved scoundrel he plays in the Pirates films, has seeped into his subconscious.

"There's most definitely a part of me in Capt. Jack, and now — fortunately or unfortunately — there's a great part of Capt. Jack in me as well," he says.

Given that Capt. Jack has led the franchise to bring in a whopping $2.6 billion US at the box office over the course of the three films, chances are Depp will have to put up with his swashbuckling alter ego for some years to come. And that's something he's certainly prepared for.

"I think they could wheel me in, I could have my dreads get tangled in the wheels of my chair," he jokes. "A character like Capt. Jack, I feel like you could just continue. The possibilities are endless, limitless."

Of course, more Pirates movies means more pirates, and On Stranger Tides introduces a new element in Sparrow's life: ex-lover and fierce sword-fighting opponent Angelica, played by Penelope Cruz.

"When we saw each other again, it felt like we'd wrapped the film Blow the week before," Depp says of working with the Spanish star. "It just sort of clicked instantly so that whatever exists in terms of chemistry was just instantly firing on all cylinders. It felt completely right."

Working with Cruz again also gave Depp the chance to enhance his vocabulary. "She taught me the raunchiest Spanish. It's so foul, I couldn't bring myself to repeat it," he says. "I'll carry it on my back for the rest of my days."

Cruz's favourite part of the production — aside from Spanish lessons with Depp — were the lavish locations, with filming taking place in Hawaii and Puerto Rico. "And then they built a beach in Universal Studios," she remembers. "When they told me, I thought it was my English, that I didn't understand what they said, and then I got there and there was really a beach in Universal Studios."

This ambitious group of girls is far from Done

- Everybody's talking about Done With Dolls, an all-girl band of 13- and 14-year-olds produced by Raine Maida and Chantal Kreviazuk
- We asked Maida to find out what these rock powerhouses are all about

HANDOUT

▶ Get acquainted with the group Done With Dolls now. You may be hearing a lot about them in the future.

Questions

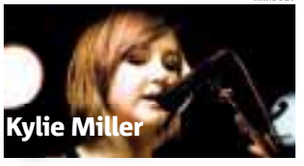
1. Why music?

HANDOUT

Eliza Enman McDaniel

Everyone has different ways they cope with certain periods in their lives, and ours happens to be music.

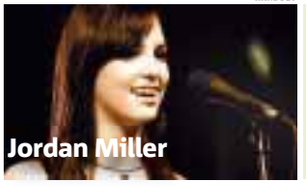
HANDOUT



Kylie Miller

Expressing myself has always been important for me. I was born with music in my veins.

HANDOUT



Jordan Miller

Music is a healthy way to express my emotions.

HANDOUT

Megan Fitchett

When I pick up a guitar, no matter how I feel, I feel better (as cheesy as that sounds).

'Real deal'

"Done With Dolls are the real deal. The reason we got involved with them in the first place is because they can all play their instruments, sing and write. If they keep working hard who knows how good they can get in five years. ... And they'll still only be 19."

2. Who do you listen to on your own time?	3. How do you feel when you're on stage?	4. Describe your sound in one word.	5. Are you a role model for other teen girls? And what does that mean to you.	6. Describe yourself in five years.	7. If you could have dinner with one musician, dead or alive, who would that be?
Paramore, Tegan and Sara, City and Colour, All Time Low and Coldplay.	It's my favourite aspect of the whole "Rock Star Life." I get such a rush from knowing that the whole crowd is there to support us.	Edgy.	I hope other teen girls look up to us. It's an incredible feeling because you are representing them in a way. But it's also a huge responsibility.	I hope to still be involved with music in any way possible. Whether it's playing in a band, or solo.	Dallas Green.
Tegan and Sara, Paramore, Metric, Arcade Fire and Ellie Goulding.	Being on stage is one of the best places for me to be. I feel amazing while up on stage.	Punky.	I'm not sure, but I hope I am. I want other girls to be inspired by what we're doing, and dream super big.	Hopefully playing shows for lots of people, developing a solid fan base and writing songs!	I think I'd have to say John Lennon. He's so fascinating.
The Who, Billie Holiday, Aerosmith, Pavarotti, Rolling Stones.	I feel amazing. I love the spotlight and I feel really appreciated and free when I know I have the attention.	Pop-rock.	I hope to be. There are no female rock role models in this day and age for girls to look up to. I hope we can inspire young girls.	Having fun, learning and going to university.	Frank Sinatra.
B.B. King, AC/DC, Rush.	I feel incredible. It's a rush of excitement that is fuelled by the crowd. It's kind of hard to describe.	Different.	I hope we are role models because I think it is important for anyone to have someone to look up to.	I hope to still be playing music. But I have no idea.	Angus Young, the lead guitarist of AC/DC.

GETTY IMAGES

We asked DWD's producer Raine Maida for his take on the band.

You have the opportunity to produce any number of fresh young bands. Why Done with Dolls?

We work with a lot of developing artists. However Done With Dolls are by far the youngest. The most interesting thing about Done With Dolls is their passion for being a "band" in a day and age where "real" rock bands, especially all-girl rock bands, are rare.

How would you describe their sound?

Constantly evolving. Their influences range from alt rock bands such as Tegan and Sara and Arcade Fire, to classic rock acts like Led Zeppelin and Blondie.

Lohan wants to move on

▶ Lindsay Lohan

After pleading no contest to her misdemeanor theft charge, Lindsay Lohan is eager to put the entire incident behind her as she serves out her jail sentence at home.

"I am glad to be able to put this past me and move on with my life and my career. I support the judge's decision and hold myself accountable for being in this situation," Lohan says in a statement to TMZ.

Meanwhile, her probation report, which was released after the no-contest plea was entered, divulged that Lohan had been drinking alcohol on the night she snuck out of the Betty Ford Center and had an altercation with an employee of the facility.

"The probation officer believes that substance abuse is the root of the defendant's problems," the report states, according to People magazine. METRO

Smith loses mega-trailer

▶ Will Smith

Will Smith's tricked-out trailer was sent packing Wednesday after complaints from residents in the Manhattan neighbourhood where his new film, Men in Black III, is being shot.

The double-decker digs were larger than many Manhattan residences and had locals up in arms about its size, noise and fumes.

The Heat, as the $2 million trailer is known, is 53 feet long and weighs 30 tons and includes a bar and lounge, screening room, offices and a granite bathroom. Wednesday afternoon, the megatrailer was removed by Columbia Pictures. METRO

Leo splits with girlfriend Bar

Leonardo DiCaprio and Israeli model Bar Refaeli have reportedly called it quits after dating on and off for six years, according to Page Six.

"It was amicable, they're still friends and they are still talking. They just grew apart and went their separate ways," a source says. "Neither were ready to settle down, and both have busy careers that have been taking them in different directions."

The pair previously split up in 2009, reconciling last year. METRO

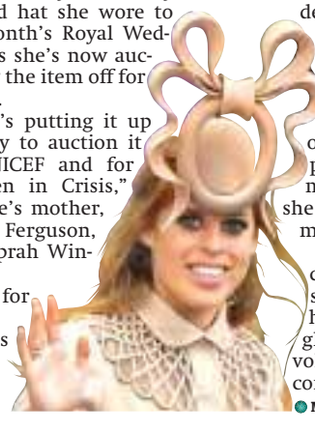
Hat that turned heads is for sale

Princess Beatrice is reportedly making the most of the infamy earned by the odd hat she wore to last month's Royal Wedding, as she's now auctioning the item off for charity.

"She's putting it up on eBay to auction it for UNICEF and for Children in Crisis," Beatrice's mother, Sarah Ferguson, tells Oprah Winfrey.

As for the Princess herself, she's pleased with the reactions her fashion choice received. "I think it's wonderful that it's had a reaction, it is just a hat after all, and now it has got its own Facebook page and so many fans," she tells Grazia magazine.

"It's an incredible response to that hat, really. I'm glad it provoked so much conversation." METRO



Hayden Panettiere ends long-distance romance with boxer

Hayden Panettiere and super-tall champion boxer boyfriend Wladimir Klitschko have broken up after a year and a half together, according to Hollyscoop.

"While we decided to split, we feel great sympathy and respect for each other and will surely stay close friends," Panettiere says in a statement.

The pair reportedly decided to split because of the stress of maintaining a long-distance relationship, as the Scream 4 starlet lives in L.A. while Klitschko lives in Germany. METRO

Sweet treats... minus the flour

Recognize Celiac Disease Awareness Month with these recipes from Phil Vickery's Gluten-Free Baking The book has more than 70 such recipes

BOTH: TARA FISHER; USED WITH PERMISSION FROM GLUTEN-FREE BAKING BY PHIL VICKERY (FIREFLY BOOKS, 2011)

Traditionally made with flour, these pancakes and muffins are made without it for a new take.

In his book Gluten-Free Baking (Firefly Books, 2011), Phil Vickery brings baked goods back into the lives of those with celiac disease or any form of gluten intolerance.

Buttermilk Pancakes

Preparation:

1. Pancakes: Place rice flour, baking powder and salt in bowl. Place egg, sunflower oil, melted butter, and buttermilk in another bowl and whisk well. Gradually, add wet mixture to dry ingredients, stirring well between each addition.
2. Heat nonstick skillet over medium heat and add olive oil.
3. Spoon in tablespoons of batter to make 4 at a time. Cook 2-3 minutes on one side, flip and cook other side until golden-brown. Repeat until all batter is used. Stack pancakes on plate; cover with clean kitchen towel to keep warm.

Ingredients:

- 1 scant cup (4 oz) fine rice flour
- ½ tea spoon baking powder
- pinch of salt
- 1 large egg, at room temperature
- 1 ½ tablespoon sunflower oil
- 4 tablespoons (2 oz) unsalted butter, melted
- 1 ¼ cups (10 fl oz) buttermilk
- 3 tablespoons olive oil

Caramel Chocolate Fudge Brownie Muffins

Preparation:

1. Preheat the oven to 350 F (180 C). Place 12 muffin liners in muffin pan.
2. Place flours, sugars, cocoa, and baking powder in a bowl and mix well. Place egg, vanilla extract, and half dulce de leche in separate bowl, and mix well.
3. Add egg mix to flour and sugar, and combine. Add chocolate and rest of dulce de leche; carefully "chop" through the mix with spoon, leaving roughly it combined. Spoon into muffin liners, and bake 18- 20 minutes.
4. Remove when well risen and slightly underbaked. Cool slightly on wire rack. Eat warm or cold. GLUTEN-FREE BAKING BY PHIL VICKERY (FIREFLY BOOKS, 2011)

Ingredients:

- 1 ¼ cup (6 ½ oz) Gluten-free flour mix
- ¼ cup (2 oz) dark brown sugar
- ¼ cup (2 oz) superfine sugar
- 3 tablespoons cocoa powder
- 2 teaspoons baking power
- 1 large egg, at room temperature
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 ¼ cup (14 oz) dulce de leche, from a jar or can
- 2 ½ tablespoons (1 oz) each of bittersweet, milk and chocolate, chopped

The perfect companion for Thai night

PETER ROCKWELL
LIQUIDASSETS@EASTLINK.CA
TWITTER: @THEREALWINEGUY

When it comes to takeout, I love Thai. While the light, fresh personality of Thailand's cuisine makes my mouth water, it's the underlying spiciness that really turns my corkscrew.

The sweet, sour and citrusy elements make choosing a beverage to wash down your Pad Thai about as easy as sitting through an episode of Glee.

One golden rule of food and wine pairing is: When in doubt pick juice made in the same country as your meal.

Thailand's not much of a wine producer, so a glass of lager beer is the perfect partner. That said, an aromatic and peppery white like one made with the gewürztraminer grape is also a natural pick.

Produced in the southwest part of Germany, the 2009 Badischer Winzerkeller Gewürztraminer ($10.76 - $13.29) is a thirst quencher with flowery aromas and off-dry, baked pear and lychee fruit flavours supported by a backbone of white pepper spice.

After 2006 disappointment, Canucks' Torres wants to enjoy every playoff moment ◆ Canucks begin conference final at home on Sunday

GEOFF HOWE/THE CANADIAN PRESS

It's the national anthems Raffi Torres enjoys the most.

Those few moments of calm before the storm allow the veteran Vancouver Canuck forward to soak up the atmosphere. It lets him appreciate something he thought he might never experience again.

"The anthems are the best part for me, looking around, especially at home," Torres said Thursday, after the Canucks practised at the Doug Mitchell Thunderbird Sports Centre on the University of British Columbia campus.

"It's not our goal just to be in the final four here. It's to get to the big dance and win it."
RAFFI TORRES

"When the crowd starts singing, you see the smiles and all the kids. It's magical."

The Canucks are preparing to play in their first NHL Western Conference final in 17 years. Most of the players are anxious for the best-of-seven series to begin Sunday (CBC, 7 p.m.).

Torres is in no hurry. He wants to savour every moment of these playoffs, something he didn't do when he was part of the Edmonton Oilers' run to the 2006 Stanley Cup final. That ended with Edmonton losing in Game 7 to the Carolina Hurricanes.

"I never realized how hard it was to get back to where we are," said Torres.

"Back in '06, I just took it for granted. The next year we came in (and thought) we would repeat what we did. It was a big wake-up call."

In 11 playoff matches he has one goal, one assist and 17 hits while averaging 10:26 of ice time.

Torres had four goals and 11 points in 22 games back in 2006. To him it was a blur.

"Everything was just flying by," he said. "There was so much stuff going on.

"I had a bigger role back (then) than I do now. I still feel like I can get back to that level." THE CANADIAN PRESS

▶ Tiger Woods

Tiger Woods limped off the golf course and into a future that is murkier than ever Thursday when he withdrew with leg injuries after his worst nine holes at The Players Championship.

"I'm having a hard time walking," he said.

Woods shot a 42 on the front nine of the TPC Sawgrass, including a triple bogey on the fourth hole when he didn't clear a water hazard 30 yards in front of him.

Goldeyes win season opener vs. RedHawks

The CC-130 Hercules roaring over Shaw Park leading into the Goldeyes' season opener against perennial rival Fargo-Moorhead RedHawks appeared to warm up a crowd of 6,078 on a chilly Winnipeg evening.

The modern-day Fish enter their 17th season as a new member of the 14-team American Association of Independent Professional Baseball. They join the St. Paul Saints, Sioux Falls Pheasants and Fargo-Moorhead in the North Division.

Goldeyes starter Isaac Hess went straight to work, striking out six of his first 16 plate opponents. He threw six shutout innings, giving up three hits and one walk.

The game remained scoreless until the fifth when Winnipeg's bats began blasting. New weapon Victor Ferrante doubled to centre to get things started, before catcher Alan Rick cranked a three-run deep ball to right. Justin Bass then tripled, and came home on a Jonathan Wyatt sac-fly to cap off a four-run inning.

The RedHawks threatened in the seventh, scoring two runs off of Winnipeg pitchers Kevin Light and Aaron Hartsock. But the home side held on for the 4-2 win, pleasing the fans who weathered the five-degree spitting rain that framed the final two innings.
